A significant turnout marked the event, with volunteers arriving early in the morning, equipped with gloves, bags, and a strong determination to make a difference. The team spread out across the beach, meticulously combing through the sand and surrounding areas to collect litter and debris. Over the course of the drive, more than 50 bags of waste materials were gathered, including plastic bottles, wrappers, discarded fishing nets, and other non-biodegradable items that posed a threat to the marine ecosystem.

The collected waste was then handed over to the waste segregation team of the Mangalore City Corporation, ensuring that it would be processed and disposed of responsibly. This collaboration highlights the importance of local governmental support in environmental initiatives and underscores the effectiveness of coordinated efforts between educational institutions and civic bodies.

In addition to the physical cleanup, the drive also served as an educational experience for the volunteers. They learned about the environmental impact of waste, particularly plastics, on marine life and the broader ecosystem. This firsthand experience underscored the critical need for sustainable practices and the reduction of single-use plastics.

The cleanliness drive at Panambur Beach was not just an exercise in waste collection; it was a powerful demonstration of community spirit and environmental stewardship. The NSS volunteers of AJIET have set a commendable example, showing how collective action can lead to meaningful change. Their efforts not only improved the local environment but also raised awareness among beachgoers about the importance of keeping public spaces clean.

The event concluded with a sense of accomplishment and a renewed commitment to continue such initiatives in the future. The NSS unit of AJIET looks forward to organizing more events that contribute to the welfare of the community and the environment, fostering a culture of cleanliness and responsibility among the youth.
