6.2.2 Institution implements e-governance in its operations

The e-governance committee at AJIET was established in 2016 with the specific goal of utilizing innovative and cutting edge technology to uplift the institute's governance structure. The implementation of e-governance is done in exams, admissions, daily departmental administration, management of information systems, and the gradual engagement of stakeholders. The adoption of digital technology, especially the internet and information and communication technologies (ICTs), is seen by A J Institute of Engineering and Technology as improving the effectiveness, accessibility, and transparency of the Institute's administration and general operations.
